VISION OF THE NORTH POL?, Sees and Describes it.

Of New York.

There is a child clairvoyant in Baltimore who, it is claimed, besides other remarkable visions, has had one of the Noth Pole. The following is her statement, as reported in the Baltimore American July 30:

The skins covered their whole body, including the hands, teet and part of the The dors seemed to be about the 8:2º of or a little larger than the Eaglish ballog. Wampi said: "In order to kill the white bear that is the surest spot to hit." Almost immediately afterward one of the men threw a spear, hit the bear on that spot and killed it.

Thence with Wampa I traversed an immense district of ice, where the ocean ocean was frozen to half its depth. Occasionally I heard under my feet loud reports from the cracking ice. After a time the ice disappeared, and water for about ten miles took its place. I then reached the Pole, and found it to be an island of a hilly form. having a gradual rise from the water's edge to about the middle of it. To ma it seemed to be about five of six miles through the centre, but Wampa told me that it is a hundred miles around it.

On some parts of it appear only bare rocks; on other parts it has an abundant vegetation. About halt of it, the east side, is covered with fruit trees. In some parts they grow in dense thickers; in some they grow not so close together, and have grass thickly interspaced among them. The fruit consists of oranges, lemons, bananas, coconnuts and other tropic d fruits, many by beetles, white and black ants, grasshoppers and many other kinds of insects all unusually large; also by many datfrent species of monkey tribe

Reform din Racing Matters.

At the last meeting of the State Agricultural Society some very sensible and long-needed reforms were adopted in the arrangements connected with horse-racing. One of them was a rule that hereafter every driver and jockey must be nently and decently clothed, and must wear a cap or jacket, or both, of some distinctive color. Another was to the effect that hereafter there shall be used large blackboard, suspended by weights and pulleys between standards, near the judges' stand, and that upon this board the names and colors of the horses and drivers or rulers shall be dis-played before every race. These are very great improvements. Heretofore the pleasure and interest of the races have been seriously disamished by the difficulty of ascertaining the names of the horses, and of following them with which could only be seen clearly by those who were near to the judges' stand. All these changes, in fact, are extremely well timed and satisfactory. -[Sicramento Record-Union.

It is the intention to carry out the above ideas at the Nevada State Fair. of which I have never seen nor he rd. The same causes have long been com-of. This part of the Pole is inhabited plained of here and they will be replained of here, and they will be removed this year.

Lively Times Coming.

Times will soon be livelier on the Comstock, there is little doubt about Movements are significant all along the lode. Elsewhere mention is made of the situation along the middle Belcher is running s ath on the 3000 level. But the north end is still most attractive. The drift porth which has been run from the Ophir incline on the 2500 level through Mexican into Union, is in a quartz formation of promise. The quartz is improving in the drift south from the Umon shaft, which is to connect with the drift above mentioned running north. The faces of these two dritts are about 300 feet apart. Add these facts to what is already known of Union on the 2500, and the posibilities there are enormous and h probablities such as to intensity the interest already centering in operations in that mine. A slave of Cortez found a few kernels of wheat in a parcel of rice, and showed them to his master, who ordered them to be planted, which was done, and the result proved that wheat would thrive well on Mexican soil, and to-day one of the finest wheat valleys in the world is near the Mexican capital. From Mexico cereal found its way to Peru. Maria D'Escobar, wife of Don Diego de Conuves, carried a few grains to Lina which were planted, the entire product being used for several successive crops. At Quito, in Equader, a monk of the order of St. Francis, by the name of Fra Iodosi Rixi, introduced the new cereal; and it is said the jur which contained the seeds planted is still preserved by the monks of Quito. Wheat was introduced into the present limits of the United States contemporaneously with the settlement of our country by the English and the Dutch.

Dumb Appimals in Court.

Some curious stories are related of instances, where, under the mediæval and ecclesistical laws of Europe, dumb animals were treated as responsible beings, arrested, brought before courts to answer for crimes, and in the meantime were shut up in prison. Witnesses were examined, judgement pronounced, the animal, it found guilty, executed, the offending beast often being dressed in the clothing of a man. Antique Enropenn law-books contain reports of trials of swine, bulls, horses, etc., in public courts for the offense of killing persons, and they were gravely hanged for their misdeeds. They had forms for prosecuting beasts too numerous to punish individually. Bats were sum-moned for devouring the barley of the region; their counsel established a sucsessful defense that their clients had desired to leave the territory but couldn't get away on account of the cats lying in wait for them. In Mayence the Spanish flies, and in Savoy the weevils were indicted at a public trial. ## The Wenderful Acaptability of Paper.

The adaptability of paper to numerous important and widely-varied uses is wonderful. What other substance can be setisfactority substituted for wood, iron and such common materials, to the extent that paper can be? It is impos-sible to find anything else which, like paper may be so differently and dexterously prepared, as regards flexibility, thinness, streagth, ducability, impervi maness to fire and water, etc., that it can be readily made into pails, washbowls, dishes, bricks, napkins, blankets barrels, houses, stoves, wearing apparel, curtains, bonnets, newspaper and ing sheets, wrappers, carpets, coating for from ships, flower pots, boxes, parchment, slates, covering for the lass of pencils, jewelry, lantern, car whoels, dies for stamping, uppers of shoes, roofing, and many other things. It is this tendency on the part of paper to take the place of everything else, become a universal substitute, so to speak, which leads to the conclusion that the future has a grand development! in store for it, and that in the years to come its manufacture will hold a magnificent position among the great industrial interests of the world.—[Paper World.
